Agency Spotlight - Canvas Health

United Way of Washington County East partners with a variety of non-profit agencies that serve our community. One of these agencies is Canvas Health, whose mission is to bring hope, healing, and recovery to the lives of the people they serve. Canvas Health started in Washington County nearly 50 years ago. The agency values new beginnings and provides comprehensive mental health care to our family, friends, and neighbors in Washington County. United Way's partnership includes supportive funding for Canvas Health's programs including Abuse Response Services and Early Childhood Behavior Assistance. Through these programs and others, Canvas Health has provided countless hours of service to children, adolescents and adults in Washington County.

Self-sufficiency is one of United Way of Washington County East's main areas of focus. Canvas Health's Abuse Response Services directly addresses this area of focus. By providing a 24-hour telephone crisis line and a 24/7/365 sexual assault advocacy response at Lakeview and Woodwinds Hospitals, Canvas Health empowers Washington County residents by ensuring that they have the resources they need to address personal trauma. In 2016, this program served more than 707 individuals. Through United Way's funding, Canvas Health is able to maintain comprehensive services for sexual violence victims through increasing advocacy, counseling, and educational services.

The Early Childhood Behavior Assistance Program (ECBA) seeks to help Washington County children age birth to 5 years who display severe emotional and disruptive behavior problems and whose needs are greater than those provided by other services. Canvas Health provides in-home and childcare intervention and consultation, therapeutic child-parent classes, and community education. Our services are tailored to meet the unique needs of each family. Children referred to the program are frequently on the verge of being kicked out of childcare settings, resulting in parental work disruption and even job loss. Since 2013, we also provided an additional clinical component that consisted of longer term therapy and care coordination. All ECBA service components are child-centered, family-focused, relationship-based, culturally sensitive, and accessible anywhere in Washington County. Our primary location of service delivery is in the home and child care setting, and all services are based in evidence based practices that are developmentally informed and relationship based.

Canvas Health provides services to people in Washington County and beyond who live with mental illness and who struggle with substance use, crisis, unstable housing, and trauma. The agency serves as a safety net provider, serving those with complex needs who may not otherwise be able to afford care.
